

Wednesday,
June 27
6 p.m. - 7 p.m.

Greenwood
Nature Center
225 S Washington
St., Greenwood IN
46143

The Importance of Honey Bees

Presented by Hunter's
Honey Farm

Bees are responsible for pollinating 1/6 of the flowering plant species worldwide and approximately 400 different agricultural types of plant.

Each attendee will be able to make a bees wax candle and take home a small jar of honey.

The total estimated time will be around 1 hour and is free to the public. Attendance is limited to the first 30 people. To attend, please contact Mike Weaver at (317) 887-4711 or stormwater@greenwood.in.gov.

Presented by HuntersHoneyFarm.com